Many different types of housing are available with special short-term rates to Loma Linda University Health (LLUH) patients and their families. Our Patient Services team has created a list of local: apartments, private rooms, cottages, condos, houses, hotels, motels, and even RV parks to fit most needs and price ranges. Some of our housing options are even within walking distance of LLUH which will be labeled accordingly.

We believe that this list will help simplify some of the frustrations and complexities of coming here for treatment. Please feel free to contact 5-6 of the places below and let them know when you will be starting treatment. Usually that should be enough to find one that is available during your time frame.

We update and inspect lodgings periodically, but can’t guarantee this information. Please contact the owner for updated information and let them know you would like the Loma Linda Proton discounted rate. Please call Karla Beteta at (909) 558-7756 or email kbeteta@llu.edu if you have any questions about our housing list.

REDLANDS AREA HOMES

Cultural and restaurant center of the region, where 19th century pioneers built lovely Victorian mansions. This historic town got its name from the red, iron-rich soil. By the 1880’s it had become the navel orange capital of the world. The Redlands naval orange remains the standard, and still boasts thousands of acres of groves. With its famous University, Symphony, Redlands Bowl, theater groups, museums, historic buildings, stores, restaurants, art, the oldest summer music festival in the nation, international bicycle race, library, and turn of the century homes, tiny Redlands, is the cultural center of the region.
